OVERVIEW

Right after I passed the bar examinations I was accepted and about to report to the Bureau of Internal Revenue (a Philippine government bureau) as one of its lawyers but as fate dictated then I was also accepted and asked to report at Quasha Law Offices to be one of its associate lawyers. Keen of honing my skill in the general practice of law I opted to join a law office and since then I have been in the practice of law up to now.

Appeared in Senate hearings regarding bridges going nowhere involving P120B in alleged corruption.
