OVERVIEW

Atty. Sidd graduated from the Ateneo Law School in 2001 and has been in private practice since then. He rose through the ranks of Paras and Manlapaz Lawyers from Junior Associate to Partner through hard work and his personal attention to clients' needs. He also serves as a professor and lecturer for special topics at educational institutions inside and outside Metro Manila.

He has extensive experience in civil and criminal litigation before Philippine courts and other government agencies. Aside from his litigation practice, he also serves as corporate secretary for several business concerns.

His extensive practice enables him to provide legal services tailored to fit the needs of clients. In multiple jurisdictions, he had instituted and resisted actions in enforcements of foreign judgments, settlement of estates, and violations of intellectual property law and collection for damages. Domestically, he specializes in prosecuting and defending a wide range of criminal cases under Philippine penal laws, as well as civil cases for money claims, breach of contract, and damages. He also handles Appellate Practice and Special Proceedings before the superior courts in the Philippines.
